

In Brief: Tiny infant strong enough to go home

June 28 2006

A premature baby who weighed only 1 pound 8 ounces when he was born has gone home after seven months in a Liverpool hospital.

Leyton Duke-McKenna was smaller than a can of cola when he born nearly 16 weeks early last November. He had only a 50 percent chance of survival, the Liverpool Echo reported.

His mother Paula told the Echo, "He has gone through more in his short life than many people would do in an entire lifetime."

Copyright 2006 by United Press International

Citation: In Brief: Tiny infant strong enough to go home (2006, June 28) retrieved 9 April 2024 from <https://medicalxpress.com/news/2006-06-tiny-infant-strong-home.html>

This document is subject to copyright. Apart from any fair dealing for the purpose of private study or research, no part may be reproduced without the written permission. The content is provided for information purposes only.
--