

Label error leads to brownie cookie recall

October 29 2007

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration announced the recall of President's Choice Chocolate Chunk Brownie Cookies because of a labeling error.

The A&M Cookie Co. of Kitchener, Ontario, Canada, initiated the voluntary recall of the 12-ounce packages bearing the code date of "03 22 08" because cookies containing milk were distributed in packaging that did not reveal the presence of milk, thereby presenting a risk to people who might be allergic to it.

The recalled cookies were distributed in Michigan, Iowa, Illinois and Indiana through Jewel Stores and Wisconsin and Minnesota through Roundy's stores.

President's Choice Chocolate Chunk Brownie Cookies sold in Canada are not affected by the recall.

Consumers can return the cookies to the store where they were purchased for a full refund.

Copyright 2007 by United Press International

Citation: Label error leads to brownie cookie recall (2007, October 29) retrieved 6 May 2024 from <https://medicalxpress.com/news/2007-10-error-brownie-cookie-recall.html>

This document is subject to copyright. Apart from any fair dealing for the purpose of private study or research, no part may be reproduced without the written permission. The content is provided for information purposes only.