

Saudi death toll from new virus reaches 18

May 27 2013

(AP)—Saudi Arabia's Health Ministry says a woman has died from a new respiratory virus related to SARS, bringing the total number of deaths in the kingdom to 18.

Saudi Arabia remains the center for the virus as investigators from the World Health Organization seek more clues about its origins and how it is spread.

Last week, WHO officials said at least 22 people have died from the virus worldwide out of 44 cases.

The Saudi Health Ministry announced the virus' latest victim in a statement Sunday. The ministry says a foreigner also died of the virus in Saudi Arabia last Tuesday after having pneumonia-like symptoms. No other details were released.

The virus has been compared to SARS, a respiratory infection that surfaced in China in late 2002.

© 2013 The Associated Press. All rights reserved.

Citation: Saudi death toll from new virus reaches 18 (2013, May 27) retrieved 24 April 2024 from <https://medicalxpress.com/news/2013-05-saudi-death-toll-virus.html>

This document is subject to copyright. Apart from any fair dealing for the purpose of private study or research, no part may be reproduced without the written permission. The content is provided for information purposes only.
--