More than 130,000 COVID-19 deaths worldwide

April 15 2020

Credit: CC0 Public Domain

COVID-19 has killed at least 131,319 people around the world, with Europe accounting for more than two-thirds of the deaths, according to an AFP tally Wednesday from official sources.

Europe has reported 88,716 deaths, while the United States has the single highest toll at 26,950.

The US is followed by Italy with 21,645 deaths, Spain with 18,579 and France with 17,167.

© 2020 AFP

Citation: More than 130,000 COVID-19 deaths worldwide (2020, April 15) retrieved 4 May 2024 from https://medicalxpress.com/news/2020-04-covid-deaths-worldwide.html