

Almost 700,000 rocking sleepers recalled after 15 babies die

January 10 2023

---

Following the deaths of 15 infants, families are advised to immediately stop using all models of Kids2 Rocking Sleepers, according to a second recall notice.

Four of those 15 babies died after the first recall notice, the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC) reported.

The company is recalling 694,000 Rocking Sleepers. Parents can contact the Kids2 company for a refund.

The CPSC says the deaths occurred after the infants rolled from their back to their stomach or side while unrestrained or under other circumstances. However, in some of the reports, Kids2 has been unable to confirm exactly what happened or that the product was a Rocking Sleeper, according to the company.

The original recall was announced in April 2019. This new announcement was issued Jan. 9, 2023.

The products were sold nationwide at major retailers, including Walmart, Target, and Toys "R" Us, and online from March 2012 through April 2019. The price was between $40 and $80.

More information: More Information

Copyright © 2022 HealthDay. All rights reserved.

Citation: Almost 700,000 rocking sleepers recalled after 15 babies die (2023, January 10) retrieved 11 May 2024 from <https://medicalxpress.com/news/2023-01-sleepers-recalled-babies-die.html>

This document is subject to copyright. Apart from any fair dealing for the purpose of private study or research, no part may be reproduced without the written permission. The content is provided for information purposes only.
--