New Alzheimer's disease pathways identified

October 6 2023

Path model of main findings. This path model summarizes the main-effect mediation model. Circles indicate principal components or latent variables, rectangles represent observed variables. Arrows either indicate PC loadings or structural regression paths. Thicker lines correspond to stronger loadings, solid structural paths are genome-wide significant (p

Citation: New Alzheimer's disease pathways identified (2023, October 6) retrieved 12 May 2024

from https://medicalxpress.com/news/2023-10-alzheimer-disease-pathways.html