

Possible contamination with 'rubber pieces' prompts sausage recall

March 13 2024, by Physician's Briefing Staff

---

More than 35,000 pounds of Johnsonville turkey kielbasa sausages are under recall due to possible contamination with "pieces of rubber."

Denmark, Wisconsin-based Salm Partners, which makes the sausage, said the products under recall were made Oct 30 and 31 and shipped to retailers nationwide.

They carry labels reading Johnsonville POLISH KIELBASA TURKEY sausage, and have best before dates of "05/17/24" and "05/18/24" printed on the sides of the plastic packaging. Recalled products also bear the establishment number stamp of "P-32009" on the packaging.

According to a news release from the U.S. Department of Agriculture Food Safety & Inspection Service (FSIS), so far there "have been no confirmed reports of adverse reactions or injury due to consumption of these products."

The FSIS urges anyone who finds the recalled sausages in their refrigerators to throw them out or return them to where they were purchased.

More information: More Information

Copyright © 2024 HealthDay. All rights reserved.

Citation: Possible contamination with 'rubber pieces' prompts sausage recall (2024, March 13) retrieved 27 April 2024 from <https://medicalxpress.com/news/2024-03-contamination-rubber-pieces-prompts-sausage.html>

This document is subject to copyright. Apart from any fair dealing for the purpose of private study or research, no part may be reproduced without the written permission. The content is provided for information purposes only.
--