

Village-doctor–led intervention effective in BP control, adds healthcare access options

15 November 2021

Credit: Pixabay/CC0 Public Domain

Village doctors who were community health workers in rural China were trained and successfully treated people with uncontrolled high blood pressure in 326 villages using a standard protocol and health coaching, resulting in over half of the people in the intervention group reaching normal blood pressure levels (

APA citation: Village-doctor–led intervention effective in BP control, adds healthcare access options (2021, November 15) retrieved 19 January 2022 from <https://medicalxpress.com/news/2021-11-village-doctorled-intervention-effective-bp-healthcare.html>

This document is subject to copyright. Apart from any fair dealing for the purpose of private study or research, no part may be reproduced without the written permission. The content is provided for information purposes only.